

Financial Aid & Scholarships:

The Study Abroad in Norway program is considered by UC Berkeley as an “Independent” or “Consortium” Study Abroad program. This program is not eligible for financial aid. The Department of Sociology does provide scholarships to students participating in the program. In return, we do ask that you agree to complete a service commitment in which you help us promote the program. You do not need to be a Sociology student to be eligible for the scholarship.

Cost of Attendance

Norwegian universities do not charge tuition for Fall terms, Spring terms, or academic year long programs. However, if you attend UiO International Summer School, you will pay tuition.

Below are the estimated cost for attendance. Please note that the following budgets do not include the cost of airfare, residence permit (required if you will study in Norway longer than three months, or a visa if needed).

- 1) NTNU budget for Fall/Spring terms
- 2a) UiO provides a budget for a Fall/Spring semester.
- 2b) UiO International Summer School. The 2020 fees are listed here.
- 3) UiT budget for Fall/Spring terms
- 4) UiB budget for Fall/Spring terms

For comparison, please check the estimated cost for UC Berkeley:

- 1) UC Berkeley cost for 2019-2020.