Course Description:
This course offers a general introduction to sociology—the study of the social institutions, organizations and social relations that shape our lives and life chances—by way of a special focus on education. We begin the class with an examination of core sociological ideas on how societies are organized and the inherent strengths and problems within different social arrangements. We then explore these sociological principles through concrete studies of class, race, gender and sexual inequality. The articles in the course reader address the broader dimensions of social inequality, and, along with the one assigned text, explore how these issues specifically affect American youth as students in the public school system. Once familiar with basic theoretical and empirical approaches used to explain unequal social outcomes, we will consider the ways in which educational systems can be used to perpetuate or resist social inequality. We conclude the class by asking what broader social changes might be necessary to reduce the harmful effects of inequality on human development and social integration.

Learning Objectives:
1) Gain knowledge of the broad contours of social inequality in American society;
2) Use sociological insights to understand the larger social contexts that shape individual experiences and limit or expand their life chances;
3) Gain specific knowledge on how our educational system can both perpetuate and mitigate social inequality;
4) Learn to identify basic arguments made by others and construct and support your own arguments in written and oral forms;
5) Practice civil discourse in the classroom and beyond;
6) Learn information literacy skills to become an independent and self-motivated learner
Required texts: This course has one required course reader. The course reader is available at Krishna Copy (2595 Telegraph Ave near the corner of Parker Street). You are also required to bring an i-clicker to class.

Grades will be based on the completion of the following assignments:

10% Class participation: participation includes:
   a. (5%) regular attendance in class demonstrated by answering i>clicker questions

      I will post power points on B-course only if 90% or more of the class are present or have obtained an excused absence.
   b) (5%) contributions to the class discussion board on b-course. Students must post at least one comment per module to receive full credit.

20% Quizzes (best 4 of 5): The quizzes will be relatively short “objective” exams that will be posted on our class website on b-course. The quizzes will be available for a 24-hour period announced in class. Because you are not required to take all 5 quizzes, there are no make up exams (exception for certified emergencies).

30% Midterm essay: 1500 word essay on the relationship between your family and community’s socio-economic status and the quality of one’s own high school education. Due October 12 Submit to Assignment section on B-course

35% Research Prospectus: You will be given basic data on one of the major public high schools in Oakland. You will write an analysis of how race, gender and/or sexuality contribute to educational inequality based on these data, the course readings, and supplemental readings that you find from the library. You will be given a detailed handout to guide you through the steps of this research project, including instruction on how to find appropriate sources in the library’s electronic databases. You will also have the opportunity to revise a draft of your research prospectus. Your final paper should be between 1900 to 2200 words in length (about 6 to 7 pages, double spaced).

2% Group Progress Reports due IN CLASS on November 7

3% Drafts due November 16

Drafts should be electronically submitted to the “Assignments” section on b-course. Drafts are a credit/no credit assignment. No extensions will be given.

Final papers are due Tuesday, December 12

All final papers should be electronically submitted to the “Assignments” section on b-course. Because of the need to turn in final grades soon after Dec. 12, no extensions can be given.

There is no formal final exam for Soc. 3AC.

Extra credit: Students may earn one point extra (added to final class score) by:

1) reading and writing a two-page (double-spaced) review of any of the books on the Supplemental Reading list. You may also review books not on the Supplemental Reading list with my approval. Answer the questions at the bottom of the Supplemental Reading list section (1 point);

2) watching and reviewing any of the recommended videos listed at the end of unit modules—address questions at the end of the Supplemental Reading list section in your review of the video (0.5 point per submission but may be repeated once for a total of one point)

All extra credit should be submitted to the Extra Credit section under the Assignments tab on B-course by or before December 11.
Grading Scale
Your assignments will be given a numeric score and posted on B-Course Gradebook. The numeric score of each assignment will be weighted by its percentage in the overall grade, (e.g., your midterm essay will count for 30%, your final project will count for 35%). At the end of the semester, your scores will be totaled and converted to a letter grade based on the following scale:

University policy on cheating or plagiarism:
Achievement and proficiency in subject matter include your realization that neither is to be achieved by cheating. An instructor has the right to give you an F on a single assignment produced by cheating without determining whether you have a passing knowledge of the relevant factual material. That is an appropriate academic evaluation for a failure to understand or abide by the basic rules of academic study and inquiry. An instructor has the right to assign a final grade of F for the course if you plagiarized a paper for a portion of the course, even if you have successfully and, presumably, honestly passed the remaining portion of the course. It must be understood that any student who knowingly aids in plagiarism or other cheating, e.g., allowing another student to copy a paper or examination question, is as guilty as the cheating student. Class Dynamics
We will look at important but controversial topics. You may not always feel comfortable with some of the material and opinions expressed in this class. In order to make class discussions productive and safe for participants, we need to adhere to some basic ground rules.

Respect the class. This class will challenge many preconceived ideas about society. It is important that you show respect for the class by reading the assigned material before you enter the classroom. It is not necessary that you agree with the authors, but you are responsible for knowing the content of their arguments. The expression of factually unfounded opinions simply wastes class time. Surfing the Internet, texting, checking email, etc. during lecture is a waste of class time. I will publically ask you to close Internet pages or to cease texting when I observe this behavior during lectures.

Respect your classmates. When taking a position in a class discussion, it is important that you express your ideas with tact. I hope that you will make bold arguments, but your questions need to show some consideration of your audience, just as your answers need to show knowledge of the topic at hand. You will undoubtedly disagree with some of the perspectives presented in class. Please respond to the ideas rather than personally attacking the opinion holder.

Additional Course Support through the Student Learning Center
http://slc.berkeley.edu/general/index.htm

SLC Study Groups: The Student Learning Center will sponsor study groups for Soc. 3AC beginning the third week of classes (Sept 4). Study groups are free to all registered students but admission to study groups are on a first come first serve basis. This semester, the study groups will be led by Bhavani Bindigavile. Bhavani will hold two study groups, Mondays from 6:00-7:30 p.m. and Wednesdays from 12:30-2:00 p.m. Location TBA.

Caveat: Social Science study groups are not a drop-in format. Study group participants are asked to join the group and attend consistently throughout the semester.

SLC Workshops: Check the SLC website (given above) for relevant workshops, especially the “Mastering the Social Sciences” series offered during the first two weeks of the semester. These workshops provide useful overviews of approaches and study skills for this and other social science classes.

SLC Writing Program: The Writing Program within the Student Learning Center has tutors available by appointment and on a drop-in basis. Drop-in hours begin the third week of class and are held M – Th 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and F 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Sign up on the Writing Drop-in computer in Chavez Atrium. You may also make advance appointments for tutoring beginning in the fourth week of class. Writing tutors are very busy during the second half of the semester, so plan ahead. Writing tutors will help you brainstorm for ideas as well as give pointers on expression and grammar, but they are most helpful if you are prepared for your sessions. Tutors will not proofread your papers. See the SLC web site (given above) for further information.

Supplementary Book List

I have requested that some of these books be placed on reserve at Moffitt Library (indicated by “On reserve” and the call number). You may review other books with my approval. (Send me an email or talk to me after class.)

If you wish to write a two-page (double spaced) review of one of these books for extra credit, your review should include answers to the following questions:

1) What is the main question addressed by this book?
2) What is the main argument (or central thesis) put forth by this book? Does this argument include a theoretical claim?
3) What do you think are the book’s most important or interesting pieces of empirical evidence?
4) How does the content of the book relate to ideas presented in the class?
5) (Optional) Do you see any weaknesses in the book or are there any questions that you would like to ask the author?

Topic: Class inequality and its social/political ramifications
Robert Reich, Saving Capitalism (for the many not the few) (On reserve: HB501.R359 2015)
Joseph Stiglitz, The Price of Inequality
Thomas Piketty, Capitalism in the 21st Century

Topic: Lived consequences of class inequalities
Kathryn Edin and Luke Shaeffer, $2.00 A Day
Matthew Desmond, Evicted

Focus on youth and class inequality:
Paul Tough, Helping Children Succeed (esp. relevant for insights into the unmet needs of poor children) (On reserve: LC4091 .T678 2016)

Topic: Racial inequality/structural analyses
Dalton Conley, Being Black, Living in the Red
William Julius Wilson, More Than Just Race, Being Poor and Black in the Inner City

Topic: Racial identity (literature)
Maria Hong, ed., Growing Up Asian American: an anthology
Harold Augenbraum and Ilan Stavans, Growing Up Latino: memoirs and stories
Peter Jamero, Growing Up Brown: Memoirs of a Filipino American
Topic: Gender
Caitlin Moran, How To Be a Woman (warning: text is very funny but uses explicit and, by some measures, offensive language) (On reserve: PN5123.M683 A3 2012)
Mary Pipher, Reviving Ophelia (older but still relevant book on the psychological impact of adolescence on girls)
Jennifer Pierce, Gender Trials (how gender affects legal workers—a must-read for anyone thinking of becoming a lawyer)

Topic: Sexuality
Ritch Savin Williams, Becoming who I am: young men on being gay (On reserve: HQ76.27.Y68 S28 2016)
Arlene Stein, Sex and Sensibility (on changing parameters of lesbian identity)
Kristen Schilt, Just One of the Guys (on transgender men)

Topic: Race/Ethnicity and Educational Inequality
Jonathan Kozol, Savage Inequalities (Kozol’s first and most powerful book on inequalities in the US school system)
Jonathan Kozol, Ordinary Resurrections (a touching and hopeful account of children living in a poverty-stricken section of the Bronx)
Beverly Tatum, Why Are All The Black Kids Sitting Together In The Cafeteria (development of racial identity)
Lisa Delpit, Other People's Children: Cultural conflict in the classroom (future teachers need to read this book!)
Jeannie Oakes, Keeping Track: How schools structure inequality (the classic book on tracking)
Crystal Laura, Being Bad: My Baby Brother and the School-to-Prison Pipeline
