

David Joseph-Goteiner

djosephgoteiner@berkeley.edu

www.sociodavid.com

Education

University of California, Berkeley Ph.D. in Sociology, 2025 (expected)

Title: “Worker Satisfaction on Digital Platforms”

Committee: Heather Haveman (chair), Marion Fourcade, Calvin Morrill

Research interests: work/occupations, economic sociology, organizations, technology, theory

Teaching experience: introduction to sociology, research methods, sociological theory, work

École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales Master’s I in Sociology, 2018

Highest honors (mention très bien)

Yale University B.A. in American Studies, 2014

Cum laude, honors in major

University of California, San Diego International Studies major, 2010-2012

Dean’s list (2010-2012)

Publications

“Institutional Logics: Motivating Action and Overcoming Resistance to Change” (with Heather Haveman and Danyang Li). In Management and Organizations Review, December 2023.

“The Globalization of an Interaction Ritual Chain: ‘Clapping for Carers’ During the Conflict Against COVID-19” (with Alexandre Rigal). In Sociology of Religion, Winter 2021.

“Social Structure and Organizations” (with Neil Fligstein). In the Wiley-Blackwell Encyclopedia of Sociology, Second Edition, 2020.

Works Under Review

“Dimensions of Dependence: Platform Work as a Financial Mechanism” (solo-authored, Revise & Resubmit)

“When Small is Special: The Social Meanings of Money from a Microwork Platform” (solo-authored, under review)

Works In Progress

“It’s Better than X’: Reference Practices and Fair Pay on Platforms”

“Rhetorical and Real Wages on an Academic Data Platform”

“Symbolic Breaks: Time On and Off of a Microwork Platform”

Awards, Scholarships and Fellowships

2024 – Graduate Student Peer Mentor Award (UC Berkeley)
 2023 – Summer Writing Grants for Advanced Students (UCB)
 2023 – Herbert Blumer Prize (UCB)
 2023 – SASE Early Career Workshop Award
 2023 – Dissertation Completion Fellowship (UCB)
 2021-2022 – Lowenthal Fellowship (UCB)

Selection of Presentations

2024

January – Laboratory for Studies in Economic Sociology (HSE), Moscow
 April – Precarity Lab, Boston University
 June – Labor Tech Research Group
 July – Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics (SASE)
 August – Annual Sociological Association (ASA) Annual Meeting, Montreal

2023

April – Precarity Lab, Boston University
 July – Early Career Workshop at SASE, Rio de Janeiro
 August – ASA Annual Meeting, Philadelphia
 September – SHIFT Project, UCSF and Harvard

Teaching/Mentoring Experience

Instructor on Record:

“Platform Work and Inequality in the U.S.” Spring 2024

Mentoring:

Five undergraduate mentees over the course of 6 semesters

Graduate Student Instructor:

- “Social Theory.” 2020-2021 (Michael Burawoy)
- “Methods of Sociological Inquiry” Spring 2020 (Daniel Schneider)
- “Introduction to Sociology” Fall 2019 (Sandra Smith)

Misc.

Languages: French (fluent), Turkish and Italian (elementary)

Citizenship: United States, French (E.U.)

Software: Stata, MAXQDA, Qualtrics